CHICAGO, May 28. - Anarchist August Spies was seen in the county jail last night and upon being asked what he night and upon being asked what he thought of his case now said:

"I don't think anything about it, excepting as a hoax. I think the capitalistic papers ought to be suppressed. If it will do the capitalists any good I am satisfied to let them hang me. My sentiments in the past, so freely expressed, are less incendary than those of the capitalistic press since the recent labor troubles began. You must know that I don't care for my life. They may TAKE MY LIFE and they may take the lives of any of my friends, but the revolution no man can hold dow. In if the revolution breaks out you will not be able to suppress it. See the great French revolutions and other revolutions. Revolutions pass over human laws and human beings and their efforts. They don't care for human beings, and human powers; they have no care for anything. Every revolution has its great sacrifices and if you want to take my life you can do it.

WE DIDN'T THROW BOMBS, I am quite sure that one of the capital-ists threw the bomb in order to get rid of us or to have a chance to jump on us."

Spies further said that if he is hanged
it will only demonstrate what he has always muintained, that laws and constitutions were only made for the capitalists.

Fielden said he was not guilty, but wouldn't he surprised if the police trumped up a lot of evidence against him.

Blown up by Giant Powder.

DENVER, May 28 .- An Aspen special to the Republican says: A ferrible accident occured on the Midland railroad cident occured on the Midland railroad grade this afternoon at 3 o'clock by which a man named Gill and Lew Maloney, of the firm of Orman, Crook & Co., lost their lives. Maloney, Gill and Daye Foley were putting in a blast on the grade about four miles above the mouth of Fryingpan fork. A large quantity of powder had been placed in the hole and some giant powder was placed on top to explode it. Foley was at work tamping the charge and the others were watching the operation. Suddenly a terrible explosion occurred. GEO. J. DINKEL, President.

Ches were watching the operation. Suddenly a terrible explosion occurred. Foley was buried with earth and rock but Maloney and Gill were hurled into the air. Eye witnesses say that they shot up fully 100 feet. The bodies described a curve in the air and fell into the raging stream below the grades and they appeared to be uninjured as they seemed to struggle to control their fall. Foley was found unconscious but it is not expected will live.

Anarchist Most to Go to the Pen. NEW YORK, May 28 -The trial of Most and his associates, for inciting riot, etc... took place today. After hearing the arguments of counsel, and the charge by the recorder, the jury retried and after seventy minutes returned with a verdict of guilty for all three of the prisoners, but recommended Schenck to the mercy of the court. They were at once conducted to the prison van and taken to jail, where they are closely guarded.

The motion for a new trial will be neard on Wednesday.

On motion of Hatch an amendment was adopted allowing retail dealers in oleomargarine to pack the compound in paper packages.

Mr. Townshend, of Illinois, offered an amendment reducing the tax on a pound of oleomargarine from ten to two cents.

Mr. Creary moved to fix the rate at five cents. Rejected.
Mr. Glass moved to fix it at one cent. Rejected.
Pending action on Townshend's amendment, the committee rose.

pecial to THE GAZETTE. SPRINGER, N. M., May 28 .- A young man by the name of E. Cahn, or who rather represented himself as being enrather represented himself as being entitled to that name and said he was a son of Mr. Joe Cahn, a large merchant of Kansas City, dropped into Springer a few weeks ago and in some way got into the good graces of Simon Frankenthal of La Cinta, who took him down to his ranch and entertained him for several days. Mr. Frankenthal being well acquainted with Mr. Joe Kahn of Kansas City, allowed the supposed-to-be son to take a horse from his range and give him in exchange therefor an order on take a horse from his range and give him in exchange therefor an order on his "father" in Kansas City. The order was sent through the bank in due course for collection, but was returned unpaid, whereupon inquiry was made and the yeung man was found to be a fraud, Before the boy left Springer, he was caught in the act of stealing money from Cashier N. F. Cooke of the Springer House. Mr. Cooke nowever let him go without any arrest being made, but this morning Mr. Frankenthal had a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Sturges and forwarded on to Raton, where the boy is said to be, with his fraudulently procured horse, saddle and bridle.

Mr. Edmunds called attention to the fact that the effect of proceedings thus far on the Northern Pacific forfeiture bill was just the same as if the senators had all been employed by the railroad company to bedevit the bill and do nothing at all in the matter to which it related, by the submission of propositions that raised disturbing questions. Questions which the experience of the senators led them to believe were not likely to be decided. He wanted the people of Washington and Oregon and the United States to take notice of today's proceedings and see whether it was not fairly to be suppossed that the railroad company had by some power or other hoodwinked and misled the minds of the senators so as to add things that should prevent any action whatever on a point as to which all whatever on a point as to which all were agreed.

The Railroad Bridge at Isleta Gone.

ecial to THE GAZETT ALBUQUERQUE, May 28.—The rise in the Rio Grande river is proving very disastrous to the railroad bridges, and damaging houses and destroying many farms along the banks. The river is rising rapidly and if the volume of water increases as rapidly as it has in the past twenty-four hours for any length of time, it will probably pass all previous high water marks. The long Santa Fe bridge at Islets is almost entirely gone, and passengers and mails have to be transferred. The company had just finished this bridge last summer it was the longest on the line of the ALBUQUERQUE, May 28.—The rise in It was the longest on the ine of the road, and was supposed to be able to withstand the force of the highest rises which have ever been known in the Rio Grande.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—In the house New YORK, May 28.—The committee today the eleomargarine bill was discussed at length. During the discus- ances at General Grant's tomb have assion Mr. Hiscock, of New York, said that all the wit, invectives and filibustering of the bull butter men, the hog fat butter men and the soap grease butter men could not drive the farmers out of the court. The agricultural and dalry men were here and he hoped and trusted to stay until we had action on this bill.

Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, desired to ask the gentleman in charge of the bull what amount of money it would take to put the law in operation.

Mr. Hatch replied that he had information from the commissioner of internal revenue that "He is greatly emaciated and unable to take any substantial food, and the exertion necessary to get him into the carriage for his drives last week, aided to the natural excitation which the exercise in the open air produced, has operated to his unadvantage. His friends have hopes of carrying him through the summer, but the most sanguine of them hardly hope for more than this."

St. Louis, May 28.-Frank Bowman, the distinguished attorney, has filed a suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Mary A. Bowman. His petition is very brief and to the point. He charges his wife with having so tampered with her person as to prevent conception and render herself incapable of bearing children; also with having impaired herself so as to deprive him of his martial rights. This suit is believed to be a move to counterant a similar suit which she was about to bring against him. She will file a cross-bill, and a big social sensation which has been crowding to the surface for a long time is bound to come out. suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs.
